STUDENT POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT POLICY

Policy Statement

1.1
At Activate Learning, we uphold a holistic and comprehensive approach to positive behaviour management that integrates trauma-informed practice, restorative practices, strengths-based attributes development, social and emotional learning (SEL), and mental health support. Positive behaviour management (PBM) is essential in all our learning settings to create calm, safe, and supportive environments conducive to learning and growth for both students and staff. It is intricately linked with academic achievement, safety, welfare, and well-being. Grounded in empathy, personal development, and resilience building, our approach addresses the impact of behavioural challenges while promoting healing, growth, and academic success through the development of social, emotional, and mental well-being.

1.2
Positive behaviour management encompasses all actions and interactions within our diverse learning communities, not just disciplinary matters. This includes how individuals effectively work, communicate, relax, study, use social media, and more. Poor behaviour can manifest in various ways, from distractions, to abuse to endangering safety. Our comprehensive approach to PBM addresses any conduct that undermines academic and social success, damaging the dignity and safety of individuals, and celebrates behaviours that meet and exceed our expectations.

1.3
Activate Learning's Learning Philosophy emphasises that our routines, practices, and responses to students should promote their sense of safety and ability to learn. Understanding the neuroscience behind behaviour, including impulsivity and emotional dysregulation, is key. Trauma-informed practices (TIP) are crucial for supporting students' emotional well-being, acknowledging that past and present experiences can significantly impact behaviour and academic success. Motivation plays a vital role, with targeted support and focused interventions offsetting negative influences and fostering academic resilience. Prioritising students' social and emotional safety through the enactment of our Learning Philosophy is essential for effective behaviour management and learning.

1.4
We utilise Trauma Informed Practice to enhance the success of PBM. All students have different backgrounds, and this means they will have different beliefs about what good behaviour is and different capacities to use successful behaviours. We assist our teachers and support teams to develop proactive, pre-emptive approaches to creating trauma-informed environments which will benefit all students and staff alike and where good behaviour is seen, heard, demonstrated, encouraged and expected.

The Activate Learning Positive Behaviour Management Policy supports the habits and routines that students will develop as part of their time at college and the student Code of Conduct clarifies these expectations. Routines form part of Activate Learning's 4 Rs approach that emphasises relationships, routines, readiness to learn, and responses as essential pillars of PBM. First, strong relationships between students and teachers are essential, ensuring every student feels valued and supported, particularly those who have experienced trauma.

Second, clear and consistent routines create a respectful and safe learning environment, guiding students towards positive habits and autonomy. Third, teachers play a pivotal role in establishing classroom culture, promoting expected behaviours, and teaching essential routines to cultivate a readiness to learn among students. Finally, we respond to behaviour challenges with clear, consistent strategies, addressing issues justly and proportionally, incorporating both formal interventions outlined in behaviour policies and informal cues, support, and intervention. Students who do not meet those expectations will be supported to improve in the first instance, or disciplinary action may be implemented if appropriate.

Restorative practice serves as a fundamental cornerstone within our PBM methods due to its transformative and holistic approach to addressing conflicts and behavioural issues. Restorative practice emphasises repairing harm, restoring relationships, and building accountability rather than solely focusing on punitive measures. By prioritising dialogue, empathy, and understanding, restorative practices foster a culture of respect, responsibility, and cooperation within the community. However, where there is insufficient change in behaviour, or if the misconduct is serious, further consequences and disciplinary action will be taken.

1.5

Through our consequence system we ensure consequences are clearly communicated and consistently applied, tailored to individual needs and circumstances, and proportionate to behaviour. Fairness and equity are upheld through impartial enforcement, while predictability serves as a deterrent to negative behaviour. Positive reinforcement is used to encourage desirable behaviours, and consequences are designed to provide learning opportunities. Disciplinary action is commensurate to the level and frequency of the breach of the Code of Conduct and is carried out in a staged, transparent, and fair manner, with involvement of support staff, parents/carers, key workers and employers as relevant. We take individual circumstances into consideration including adverse trauma, support needs and/or disabilities.

1.6

Good behaviour is essential to success, and we proactively recognise and celebrate the achievements of our students. Through our rewards system we transparently define reward criteria, align rewards with educational goals, maintain fairness, consistency and inclusivity, progressively reinforce positive behaviours, gather feedback, and integrate rewards with other positive reinforcement methods. Through this comprehensive approach, we cultivate a positive, motivating, and inclusive learning environment where all students are valued, supported and empowered in their academic and personal growth.

Purpose

2.1

The purpose of this policy is to set out Activate Learning's expectations in promoting and managing positive student behaviours and conduct. Scope

3.1

This policy applies to Further Education, Higher Education, Apprentices, Online, students aged 14-16, and students living in on-site accommodation.

3.2

The same high standard of behaviour is expected of students in the application or transition phase prior to attending college, where they are in contact with Activate Learning online, via the phone, or on-site atan event such as an Offer Event or Welcome Day.

3.3

When a student is enrolled at Activate Learning any behaviour on or off campus, including online, which damages the good reputation of Activate Learning falls into the scope of this policy.

All students have a responsibility to follow the Code of Conduct.

4.2

All Activate Learning staff have a role in supporting students to develop positive habits and routines to meet expectations.

4.3

4.4

All staff must report behaviour that concerns them to appropriate staff members. If there is an emerging or escalating situation this needs to be reported to the Behaviour and Welfare Officer and the Duty Manager. If there is a safeguarding risk this needs to be reported to a member of the Safeguarding team immediately.

4.5

The full outline of roles and responsibilities can be found in the Student Positive Behaviour Management Procedure, and in the appendix to this policy.

Commitment Statement

5.1

Consistency: We are committed to maintaining consistent expectations and routines, recognising the importance of stability and predictability for students. By establishing clear boundaries and routines, and practicing active bystandership we create a sense of safety and security that supports positive behaviour and emotional regulation.

5.2

Clarity: We prioritise clear communication of expectations, rules, and consequences, providing students and key stakeholders with the structure and guidance they need to navigate their learning environment safely. Through transparent communication and consistent messaging on the website, during the application process, at enrolment, during induction, and on programme we develop and reinforce positive behaviour.

5.3

Co-creation: All stakeholders are involved in the ongoing development and evaluation of the PBMF and contribute to its development.

5.4

Consequence: We believe in the importance of fair and restorative consequences that promote accountability, growth, and healing. Our framework emphasises consequences that focus on repairing harm, restoring relationships, and fostering empathy, rather than punitive measures.

Strengths-Based Attributes Development: We recognise and celebrate the unique strengths and positive attributes of each student, fostering a culture of empowerment and growth. By identifying and nurturing students' strengths, talents, and interests, we promote self-confidence, resilience, and a sense of purpose.

5.6

Social and Emotional Learning (SEL): We prioritise the development of social and emotional competencies, including self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, relationship skills, and responsible decision-making. Through explicit instruction and integration into the curriculum, we empower students to develop the skills and attitudes necessary for success in college, work and life.

5.7

Mental Health Support: We acknowledge the importance of mental health and well-being in promoting positive behaviour and academic success. Our PBM framework includes proactive measures to support mental health, including access to counselling services, mental health education, and resources for self-care and coping strategies.

5.8

Provision for SEND Learners: Personalised support plans, assistive technologies, and accommodations address the specific needs and challenges of SEND learners, ensuring inclusivity and equal opportunities for success.

5.9

Statutory obligations: The minimum expectation of behaviour is aligned with criteria set out within Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) and the policy and all associated policies are aligned with our legal duties and standards relating to the welfare of children and with our Learning Philosophy.

Disciplinary steps

6.1

The disciplinary process is integrated into the PBM framework by establishing clear guidelines aligned with our organisational values. It emphasises prevention and intervention through proactive measures, activates when infractions occur, and incorporates restorative practices for resolution where appropriate. Disciplinary steps are commensurate with the behaviour and are dealt with through an informal or formal procedure, depending on the level of concern. Ongoing evaluation ensures fairness and effectiveness, with adjustments made as needed.

6.2

If a student's behaviour falls below the expected standard, decisive and supportive action is taken by staff as quickly as possible to avoid further deterioration in conduct. The policy may be adapted by agreement with Higher Education partner organisations, employers, or other partners where their standards require alternative or enhanced regulations.

The informal disciplinary procedure is used when a student's behaviour is a cause for concern and the matter will be dealt with by staff, involving parents/guardians/carers as appropriate. Behaviours that activate a cause for concern are outlined in the Positive Student Behaviour Procedure.

The formal disciplinary procedure is used for more serious breaches of the Code of Conduct or wherethe interventions put in place in the informal procedure have not resulted in the changes needed. The procedure will involve the faculty management and will always involve parents/guardians/carers if the student was under 18 on the 31st August the year of their enrolment.

There are two stages in the formal procedure:

Stage 1 – Minor breach of the Code of Conduct or repeated, cause for concerns or stage 1s.
Stage 2 – Major breach of the Code of Conduct or repeated minor breaches or not meeting stage 1 targets.

6.3
We have minimum expectations for all students. We expect students to attend all lessons and exams and to be on time. Attendance is recorded and monitored, and any poor attendance and punctuality is dealt with in the informal disciplinary procedureinitially.

6.4
Any case of bullying, harassment, discrimination, or violence will be dealt with formally.

6.5
The group has a rigorous approach to illegal substances and offensive weapons; any case involving a student's use or suspected use of illegal substances must involve the Group Support Team.

6.6
Disciplinary cases relating to students with an Education Health Care Plan (EHCP) must involve the Group Learning Support Team.

6.7
We involve and work in partnership with parents/guardians/carers (if under 18 on 31 August), key workers, internal support staff and employers when dealing with any behavioural issues.

6.8
We work closely with the Police in dealing with student conduct. If we become aware that a student has acted illegally, we will report the crime to the Police. This may result in a delay in making disciplinary decisions internally while we wait for the outcome of a Police investigation.

6.9
Within the formal disciplinary procedure, if a student has repeated minor breaches of the Code of Conduct or a major breach, they may be withdrawn at the discretion of the Faculty Director following a Stage 2 Disciplinary Meeting. If a student is withdrawn, they have the right of appeal to the Executive Director of the Faculty.

6.10
All disciplinary decisions are made fairly and taking the full facts and student's circumstances into account. The outcome of a disciplinary case may be delayed whilst a thorough investigation takes place.

6.11
Disciplinary response may result in temporary exclusion pending an investigation or where we deemthis to be for the safety of the student or others.

6.12

If a student is withdrawn on disciplinary grounds, this will affect their likelihood of being offered a placewhen applying in the future.
